With a tremendous vote the Advocate contest closed Thursday night—889,075 votes having been cast on the last day, almost doubling the total vote and making a grand total of 1,792,330. The figures are amazing even to those who thought they could in a measure estimate the vote of the last day.

Miss Estella Emery of District No. 1 has the honor of having received the highest vote in the entire 10 districts, 146,440, and is therefore entitled to name the chaperon for the party. Though Miss Emery had not been told of her success Friday afternoon when these words were written, it is known that Miss Emery will choose her mother, Mrs. Dr. Emery, to act as chaperon. Mrs. Emery will therefore become one of the Advocate's guests on the big Eastern trip in July.

Miss Earl Goff, who was Miss Emery's competitor, was only 4,565 votes behind and next to Miss Emery, Miss Goff leads in the entire ten districts. It is with pleasure that the Advocate has included Miss Goff in the party along with two other special guests, Misses Taylor and Dair.

As it required the attention of the Advocate clerks all of Thursday night and Friday to issue receipts and coupons and to count them, it is impossible at present to announce the winners of the Advocate's three cash prizes, $20, $10 and $5. These special prize winners will be announced later.

Besides adding three young ladies to the party as this paper's special guests, the Advocate is pleased to award cash prizes of $25 each to Misses Benner, Clark and Miller.

Owing to the hundreds of new subscribers added to the subscription list on Thursday, it may be that it will be a day or two before all of the proper addresses are entered, but corrections in wrong addresses given Thursday are being made as rapidly as possible.

JUDGES WILL INSPECT FIGURES AND REPORT

The figures published today have been compiled by the Advocate after 29 hours of unceasing work since the contest closed. These figures are to be inspected minutely by the four judges, who will examine the coupons, vote ledger and other records connected with the contest, and the official decision will be announced. Every ballot, single and special, is on file, all the specials are numbered, properly indorsed and entered, so that the judges will be able to announce positively the names of the winners, as the records are clear and are in admirable form.

GETS NEW YORK TRIP, TOO.

Besides naming the chaperon, Miss Emery will go with her mother as guests of the Advocate, to New York after enjoying the sights of Washington and the exposition.

ADVOCATE'S THREE SPECIAL GUESTS ON JAMESTOWN TRIP AND THREE TO WHOM CASH PRIZES ARE AWARDED

NOBODY DREAMED THAT SUCH INTEREST WOULD BE AROUSED

When the Advocate on April 5 first proposed to send a party of ten young ladies on a ten days' trip to Jamestown, nobody dreamed that such widespread interest would be aroused. While it was by all odds the most generous offer ever made by a Licking county newspaper, the Advocate did not imagine that it would make so tremendous a hit.

Not only the young ladies, but all their friends became interested in the contest, and a feature which gives the Advocate the greatest satisfaction is that only young ladies of the highest character were represented in the contest. Some of the best known and most respected families in the community had representatives in the contest and this paper is proud of every one of them. The contestants were all popular, energetic and alert, and their friends were pleased to vote for them. A few who made a greater personal effort than the others succeeded in securing a larger number of votes, but the result might have been different had all exerted the same energy throughout the contest.

It was the greatest popularity contest ever undertaken in Newark, and the only regret of the Advocate is that every last one of the 29 contestants could not be winners.

D. O. MILLS TO QUIT WALL STREET.

D. O. MILLS

New York, June 28.—Many inquiries were made by friends of D. O. Mills concerning the state of his health when reports were published that Mrs. Whitelaw Reid, wife of the American Ambassador to the court of St. James, was to return early next month because of the ill health of her father, Mr. Mills.

At the office of the latter, it was explained that Mr. Mills had been ill some weeks ago, but was now improved to the extent that he is able to go driving at least once a day.

Mr. Mills will celebrate his eighty-second birthday on September 25. He is one of the veteran bankers in Wall street.

Man Who Weds Dakota Society Member Must Have $2,000.

Ten or fifteen young women of Midland, west of Pierre, S. D., have formed the Marriageable Young Ladies Protective society, and its avowed object is the "promotion of sensible marriage and the prevention of domestic unhappiness and of divorce proceedings after marriage."

Each of the members of the society has signed an agreement not in any circumstances to marry a man who has less than $2,000 in cash or its equivalent and who has no insurance upon his life of $2,000 or more, says the St. Louis Post-Dispatch.

The young women who organized the society argue that poverty is the primary cause of most of the domestic unhappiness and that most of the divorce suits grow out of it. They take the position that if all marriageable young women of the country would take the pledge they have taken and stand by it faithfully society would be very greatly benefited, and the divorce courts, now so busy, would soon be driven out of business.

"We have organized our society not in a spirit of levity," said one of the young women, "but in a spirit of earnestness and with a very serious object in view. If we are firm and refuse to recede from the position we have taken on this question I suppose that some of us, possibly all of us, will remain spinsters. But we can better afford to be spinsters than to become the wives of men who cannot take care of us."

NEW USE FOR DOCTORS.

Comedian's Novel Ruse to Escape Expressive Cab Fare.

Raymond Hitchcock, the comedian, who is now on a starring tour through the west, was recently invited as the guest of honor to the Country club, about five miles outside of San Francisco, after the performance, says Harper's Weekly. As Mr. Hitchcock knew from previous experience that the cabman would ask a fortune to carry him out to the club, he looked up the address of a physician near the theater, and after the close of the show he went around and rang the bell. The doctor opened the door personally, and Hitchcock said:

"Doctor, you're wanted immediately out near the Country club. Can you come right away?"

"Certainly, sir. Just step inside a moment while I phone for my auto. We'll be there in a jiffy."

It was a good five miles to the Country club. Just beyond stood a cluster of suburban homes.

"The yellow house on the left there," said Hitchcock as he got out of the machine. "By the way, I forgot to ask you the amount of your fare."

"Four dollars," said the doctor.

The comedian peeled off four one-dollar bills and passed them to the doctor.

"That will be all, thank you, doctor. None of these pirate hackmen would take me out here for less than $15."

Market For Prairie Dogs.
A report from South Dakota says that 2,000 prairie dogs at $3 each have been contracted for by English lords who have exterminated the rabbits and hares on their shooting preserves in England and are languishing for sport. Mrs. Nellie Madden of Waukon, Wis., has withdrawn her farm north of Huron, S. D., from the market, believing its value has enhanced innumerable by the demand for prairie dogs with which it is overrun, says the Kansas City Journal. It is believed that the English noblemen have encountered another Yankee game and that the character of the prairie dogs has been misrepresented to them. The animals are the size of an overgrown rat, live in communities, their holes connected with outlets every rod or two. They are spry enough to arouse the sporting blood of the British, but when wounded drop into their holes or if dead their fellows quickly drag them in.

Mermaids' Crowns For Girls.
Gracious! The latest development in woman's eccentricity in dress is a broad brimmed hat trimmed with seaweed, says a correspondent of the New York Press. Not real seaweed, of course, for that would have to be dry to be put on a hat, and dried seaweed is the reverse of pretty. This decorative seaweed is artificial. Women in Paris who are adverse to using the plumage of birds on their bonnets and are tired of hats piled with flowers and floppy bows have hit upon the product of Neptune's garden as a solution of the difficulty. When arranged skillfully in combination with artificial flowers the weed produces a charming effect.

Paper Making Exposition.
An exposition for everything relating to paper making, printing, bookbinding and engraving, to be called the Exposition Internationale du Livre, will be held in Paris from the end of July to Oct. 20, 1907. A special feature will be the production of artistic advertising and postcards.

True Spring.
What, spring because a day is fair,
Because a brook is flowing,
Because a maple here and there
A flash of red is showing.

Because the frost has lost a tooth,
And ice packs jar and splinter?
You call it spring because, forsooth,
It simply isn't winter!

No, spring has giddier signs than these.
I'll know that spring is coming
When lilacs blow when velvet bees
In apple boughs are hummin'

When softer shadows fall astan-

The fragrant meadow mazes;

I'll call it spring when I can plant

My foot on seven daisies.

NATIONAL CATHEDRAL

Imposing Edifice to Be Erected at Washington.

WILL COST OVER $2,000,000.

Episcopal Church Structure of St. Peter and St. Paul Will Be Larger Than Most European Cathedrals. Lighting of Interior to Be Striking.

Plans for the Episcopal Cathedral of St. Peter and St. Paul at Washington, which is to be erected on Mount St. Albans, overlooking the national capitol, have been approved by the cathedral chapter, composed of the bishop of Washington and fourteen of the most prominent churchmen and laymen of the diocese of Washington, says a Washington correspondent of the New York Herald.

Plans, which were prepared by Henry Vaughan of Boston and G. F. Bodley of London, have been on private view at the bishop's house. The proposed edifice when completed will have cost more than $2,000,000. The diocese already owns the ground. The small church, the sanctuary and the buildings for the cathedral school near by represent investments and endowments of an expenditure of nearly $1,000,000.

The building will overshadow many of the European cathedrals. The total length will be 476 feet and the width 135 feet. The central tower will rise 230 feet above the foundation. The interior has been planned to give the greatest amount of space possible within the four walls. The apex of the supporting arches will be ninety-three feet above the floor. The total seating capacity is to be 5,000, allowing an ample amount of space for each person, and of this vast audience 2,750 will be able to see the preacher at the end of the nave, while all can hear him.

"In style the cathedral is, as was wisely desired, Gothic of the fourteenth century," say the architects, "a style of architecture, as we think, the most beautiful that the world has ever seen. In its dimensions it will be larger than most of the cathedrals in England or on the continent.

"The plan is that of nave and aisles, transepts, choir and two chapels. Double aisles are planned for the nave. The latter will be specially useful for monuments and memorial windows and tablets. The choir terminates in an apsidal sanctuary. The building will be vaulted in stone throughout.

"The lighting of the interior is designed to have a fine effect, being by ample clearstory windows. The light, thus coming from so high a level, will be striking. There are lower windows in the aisles, but they are quite subordinate. Then there will be a striking effect of light in the sanctuary or eastern part of the choir.

WOODS MOORE WAS MUTILATED

Woods Moore, a laborer at the Thomas foundry, was found wandering around in a dazed condition last evening by farmers at a point south of the B. and O. R. R. and about 4 miles east of the city.

He was brought to the city by B. and O. Conductor C. C. Frost and as he appeared to be injured he was taken to the Sanitarium on West Main street about 8 p. m.

On examination he was found to be horribly mutilated and an operation was necessary to save his life.

The man had been drinking and could give no rational account of how he sustained the injuries, but sprung a story to Chief Sheridan that he had been assaulted by three negroes. As his clothes were not torn and as his hands and body showed no evidences of a struggle, the story does not go with the police. He is rated as a good worker, but inclined to be dull, and when drinking is totally irresponsible.

About seven years ago, while under the influence of intoxicants, he jumped off a Panhandle train while it was running at high speed.

While the affair is still a mystery, the theory is that he is in a fit of mental aberration inflicted the injuries on himself.

JUDGE NO RESPECTER OF WEALTH OR PERSONS

Chicago, June 28.—"This court is no respecter of wealth or any other claims of immunity," Federal Judge Landis informed Attorney Miller of the Standard Oil Co., this morning, when the lawyer made an appeal to the court to have John D. Rockefeller excused from being subpoenaed in the rebate cases. Miller pleaded immunity for the oil king, on the ground of age, great wealth and many important affairs that required attention.

Judge Landis asked the attorney if other witnesses summoned would give information required in the case if Rockefeller was excused. Miller said he could not answer for that, as they might refuse to testify by advice of counsel. Judge Landis ordered the summoning of the following additional witnesses: S. Q. Bartlow, assistant treasurer of Standard; H. R. Payne, vice president of Union Tank Line, and W. H. Hutchinson, secretary of Union Tank Line.

Saving a Cab Fare.

Here's a pretty tale of domestic economy from an English paper. He had been brought up in the lap of luxury and extravagance, and when bad times came and he had to go down to the city and look carefully after his shillings it was his pretty and tender little wife who helped him and encouraged him by example in small savings. On fence, however, he never would face. He balked at taking a bus.

"It might pass the club, you know, dear, and the fellows at the windows."

One evening, however, he returned radiant to dinner. Tenderly embracing his life's partner he murmured: "I've done it, darling. All the way for threeepence."

Love and gratitude were in her eyes as she said:

"My own brave boy. Did you mind it very much?"

With affectionate cheeriness he made answer:

"No, dear. Got box seat; real good old sort the driver. Told me lots of stories and was quite chatty. Capital chap. Gave him a big cigar and half a crown for himself when I got down."

A NEW MACHINE.

Window glass will probably be made by machinery next season in a factory outside the American Window Glass company.

The new machine is the invention of Harry Slingluff, formerly manager of the American's No. 3 plant at Hartford City, Ind., and prior to that at Jeannette, Pa.

Slingluff has been in charge of an experimental station near Pittsburgh for the last year. Recently the machines were taken down and shipped to Mt. Vernon, Ohio, where, it is said, they will be operated in the big factory of the Chambers Glass Co.—Pittsburg Commoner and Glass-worker.

As souvenirs of a recent dinner at Memphis, Tenn., Albert S. Caldwell, former attorney of Indianapolis, who has accumulated a fortune in the south since returning from the bar, gave to each guest some sort of conveyance; the total cost, amounting thousands, says a special dispatch to the New York Times. Mr. Ellsworth Barr of Boston is present, a bucknocker. To Mrs. Dr. L. C. L. Mrs. Fred Orgill, Mrs. Sidney N. Mrs. Clean Smith, Mrs. Hart Johnson and others he gave landau's, cabriolets, victorias or Stanhope's.

Mr. Caldwell recently disposed of all his horses, taken up automobile, but he intended to hit guests that it was his women friends should stick to the horse.

Is the Eagle Destructive?

Upon the question whether a bald eagle is a destructive bird hinges the guilt or innocence of A. M. Dimmick, a well known man of Wilkesbarre, Pa., who is accused of violation of the game laws in wounding and capturing the bird, says the Philadelphia Record. Dimmick, who caught the bird after shooting and wounding it some days ago, was arrested by Game Protector Shogemaker. A hearing will be held. Lord Raglan was a younger son of Henry, fifth duke of Beaufort, and won his own title on the field of Mars. In the preliminary campaign and at Waterloo he served on the side of Wellington and came out of the last battle with an empty sleeve. He was raised to the peerage as Lord Raglan in 1852 and took command of the army when it marched to the Crimea. On the field Lord Raglan was a dashing leader, but his management of the campaign in the Crimea has been severely criticized. He died in camp during the siege of Sevastopol.

ANOTHER DELAY
IN SCHMITZ CASE
AT SAN FRANCISCO

San Francisco, June 28.—Judge Dunne called Mayor Schmitz for sentence, first inquiring whether it was the purpose of the prosecution to press against him the other four extortion indictments returned by the grand jury. District Attorney Langdon declared that the state had not made up its mind on this point, and asked for another week in which to consider it. Mr. Fairall for the defense insisted on the right of the mayor to secure sentence at once, so that he could without further delay take an appeal to the higher court for the new trial which Judge Dunne would refuse. Judge Dunne finally granted the delay. This action by the court so incensed the mayor's attorneys that one of them, W. H. Matson, accused Judge Dunne of outraging justice. The granted delay means that Mayor Schmitz must spend 12 more days in the county jail before applying to a higher court for bail.

JOHNSTOWN NEWS

Johnstown, Ohio, June 28.—A quiet home wedding occurred at 12 o'clock noon Wednesday at the home of Mr. and Mrs. W. F. Hughes of this village, the contracting parties being their niece, Miss Carrie D. Kasson, and Mr. Carey D. Hursey, both of this village. They were married in the presence of the immediate families by Rev. Aldridge, pastor of the Presbyterian church of this place. After the ceremony had been performed and congratulations offered, all partook of the bridal dinner that had been prepared for the occasion. These young people are well and most favorably known in this community and each have a host of friends who are much interested in their welfare and happiness. They left the same evening for Columbus where they will visit relatives. They will also visit in Westerville and Gahanna. They will return to Johnstown in a few weeks, after which they will reside with his mother, Mrs. Charlotte Hursey, until this fall, when they expect to go to housekeeping. They expect to make Johnstown their future home.

He barely managed to get his mother, who is past 80 years of age, out of the burning building, and was unable to save a single article of the household effects. It is thought that the fire originated from a spark from the kitchen range, which had fire in it until late in the evening. The loss will perhaps reach $1,000, with only about half that amount of insurance with the Patton and Carter agency.

Mr. and Mrs. H. B. Rusler entertained at their home Monday night the members of the Uniform Rank, together with several neighbors and their families. Refreshments of orangeade, ice cream and the big U. R. K. cake bought at the social were served to all present. Seymour Merchant was present and entertained with phonetic music. After the big U. R. K. cake was cut the party marched to the home of Mr. and Mrs. Sherwood Blamey and took possession. Tum Hoover proposed that all of the gentlemen present kiss the bride and set the example in such a hearty fashion that 27 followed suit, while Sherwood, not altogether pleased at the innovation, had revenge upon 11 dames, falling exhausted at the last one. The party had a sidesplitting laugh, a cigar and left them to the small boys and their tin pans.

Mr. Floyd Smith, son of Mr. and Mrs. F. W. Smith, and Miss Pearl Cramer, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Hazzard Cramer, were united in marriage Wednesday at 10 o'clock a. m. at the U. They are well and favorably known and are honorable and industrious and to them we extend hearty congratulations.

THE ENGLISH SPARROW

The United States could now celebrate, if enthusiasm could be aroused, the fiftieth anniversary of the importation of the English sparrow to this country.

The pugnacious little bird was recommended by scientists as a cure for an insect plague that prevailed, and until they got time to look around they attended to the business in hand very well and were extremely effective. After a while they got to bullying around our native birds, and bluffed them all into going out into the country, then Mr. and Mrs. Sparrow set up housekeeping and began raising large families in the pre-empted homesteads. Then, of course, having more mouths to feed and greater responsibilities, they turned from being expert entomologists to being omnivorous creatures, and now eat anything that can run bills for. Thirty years ago he was spread over 500 square miles and now his sisters, cousins and aunts occupy over 500,000 square miles.

But like everything else, he has found his level, and our native birds have, of late, taken courage and refused to be bluffed any longer, and we see them back in their old haunts. Mr. Sparrow is not altogether bad, for he is a great scavenger and much filth is cleaned up by the hustling little alien which otherwise would be left to rot and endanger the health of the community.

STRIKERS CLAIM
THE ADVANTAGE

Intimate That Telegrams Are Being Transported by Mail.

SITUATION AT FRISCO AIRED

Officials of the Companies Involved Assert That the Strike Is Petering Out and That They Are Not Disturbed About the Suspension—Statement of Each Side.

San Francisco, June 28.—The telegraphers' strike bears no change on the surface. It is claimed by the strikers that the Western Union is tied up tighter on the sixth day of the strike than on the evening the strike was called. Absolutely reliable reports, it is claimed by the strikers, from the Postal office show that on June 26 less than 400 messages were sent eastward as against an average of 2,200 per day, and 495 received from the east as against an average of 3,000.

President Small of the Commercial Telegraphers' union said: "We have the situation well in hand and know just where and how we stand. We also know how many telegraphers the two companies have at work and how many telegrams they are handling by wire. If the telegraphing public is willing to pay telegraph tolls on telegrams that are being transported by mail, that is their affair. We are working along the same lines in the management of this strike as did the printers in their eight-hour day fight, and we intend to stay with it to the finish, just as the printers did."

I. N. Miller, Jr., assistant superintendent of the Western Union, said that the company had 70 operators at work out of a total of 175 that are needed to give a full service. He declared that everything is satisfactory so far as the strike is concerned.

L. W. Storrier, superintendent of the Postal, said: "The strike is taking care of itself; it is slowly simmering out, as all other strikes do if they are left alone. We are not disturbed about it, and our former employees may secure work by applying for positions whenever they see fit."

St. Petersburg, June 28.—It has been learned from Russian revolutionary sources that the Social Revolutionary party a month ago revived the old terrorist organization, which had been suffered to lapse since the congress held in Finland during the spring of 1906, and placed Gregory Gerschunin, who escaped from Siberia last year and eventually reached New York, and Savanikoff, who escaped from Sebastopol in 1905, the best organizers of the party, in charge. The sum of $40,000 monthly was assigned for espionage, the preparation of bombs and so on, from the party treasury, which recently received more than $400,000 from the cashier of the subtreaury of Samarkand, a Social Revolutionary who embezzled $480,000 and escaped abroad. The headquarters of the terrorists, as usual, are located outside of Russia.

This trophy will go to the newspaper represented by the winner, and remain in its custody until the next annual press match. Of the Episcopal Church is Under Police Surveillance, Suspected of Wife Poisoning.

London, June 28.—Walter Swinburne Hancock, formerly an Episcopalian clergyman of a fashionable church in Chicago, whom his bishop inhibited on account of scandals with women, is under police surveillance here. He is suspected of having poisoned his wife, who was the widow of Paul Townsend Jones of New York, allegations to that effect having been made in the Kensington coroner's court at an inquiry now being held. Mrs. Hancock died March 23 last, the cause of death being certified as appendicitis. Afterwards the body was exhumed on account of the suspicions of her son, who is a barrister. He testified at the inquest, intimating strongly that he thought Hancock poisoned his wife in order to obtain her property. Other witnesses testified that Mrs. Hancock had drawn a will giving everything to her son, but when she attempted to sign the document on her deathbed she collapsed. The inquest was adjourned until July 1 for the purpose of having an analysis made of contents of the stomach.

A BIG FIRE IN UTICA VILLAGE NEWARK FIREMEN WERE THERE

A Special B. & O. Train Ordered and Made a Fast Run to the Village Carrying Aid From This City Thursday Night.

Utica, O., June 28.—One of the most destructive fires that has visited this place for a long time, completely destroyed the old two-story building on Main street, owned by W. B. Kirkpatrick, in which were located the drug store of H. C. Sohn and the grocery store of R. K. Smith on the first floor and the photograph gallery of T. G. Nelson and W. J. Ogg, dentist, on the second floor, occurred Thursday night.

The fire broke out shortly after 9 o'clock, and when discovered had gained considerable headway and was soon a roaring furnace.

In an incredibly short time it seemed as though the entire male population of the village was at the scene of the fire engaged in fighting the flames.

The fire, which started in the cellar under the Kirkpatrick building, from a gas jet being too near the wood-work was given fresh impetus by the explosion of several barrels of explosives, and rapidly ate its way upwards through the building, the wood-work of which was as dry as tinder, and soon the entire structure was a mass of lurid, seething flames.

Utica, although one of the largest towns in the county, is very poorly equipped for fire protection, and although the hundreds of volunteers worked heroically with a chemical engine and a line of hose that had been stretched from Creek's machine works, it was soon seen that the building, together with nearly all its contents, were doomed and the people became frightened, fearing lest the fire spread to the adjacent buildings, and help was asked from Newark.

Chief Bausch, who received the message appealing for assistance, immediately made arrangements with the Baltimore and Ohio railroad people, and in a short time an engine with a combination coach and baggage car and caboose was standing in readiness to make the run to Utica.

Seven hundred feet of hose were loaded on the cars and with Firemen Ned Roe, George House, John Keirigan and Harry Niece on board the train pulled out for Utica, with Engineer Shaw at the throttle of the engine and Conductor Dan Leedy in charge of the train. The run was made from Kuhler's where the train stopped for oranges, in the last time of fifteen minutes. When the train arrived in Utica, however, it was found that the fire, which had been confined to the Kirkpatrick building, had been gotten under control, but not until the entire building together with all its contents had been almost entirely destroyed, causing a loss of between $10,000 and $20,000. The firemen, however, remained in the village and assisted in every way they could, returning to Newark about 1:30 o'clock Friday morning.

The loss on the building alone will amount to about $8,000, which is fully insured in four companies of the Newark agent.

H. C. Sohn, a druggist, estimates his loss at about $2,500, which is covered by insurance.

Mr. T. G. Nelson, the photographer, who occupied rooms over the grocery store of R. K. Smith, will lose $500 on his stock of household goods. Mr. and Mrs. Nelson were unable to save any of their effects, and barely escaped from the burning building with their lives.

W. J. Ogg, dentist, estimates his loss on stock and household goods at $500, fully insured.

Daring work on the base paths in the game yesterday afternoon was responsible for Newark's three runs in the last game of the series from Akron. Twice Newark players stole home and twice players stole second. Not only that but Wratten scored the first run on a short hit to left field, running to home from second.

The work of both pitchers was great. Stoupe allowed but four hits while Armstrong allowed five. A couple of errors by Caffyn and Broderick figures in two of the Newark runs while a pass issued to Wratten helped in the third one.

Stoupe had almost faultless support. There wasn't a wobble behind him until the ninth inning and that resulted in a little scare, it being feared that Akron might score at the last moment. Stoupe had fended Armstrong's slow grounder and Gygli dropped the throw. But it didn't cost anything even if Caffyn did single to center field before any more men were out.

Mister Caffyn, the gentleman who has the letters "if" after his name, is a very punk player.

We can't say he covers left field to his doesn't. We can't say that he is an earnest player for he is a deliberate loafer and his playing here called down the ridicule of the whole bunch of fans who saw this series with Akron.

He loafed on Abbot's high fly and it was a dead easy chance but even after he got under it he let it slip through his fingers.

But be that as it may, Newark's playing in this game, as in all the games of the home series, was almost faultless. It was featured by great work a field and on bases. Pearce was in fine fettle and his throwing was good to look upon. Mickie Launge learned that it was useless to try to steal bases, and even Tim Callahan, who is mighty fast, was caught, not having learned a lesson by previous experiences.

Newark counted in the first frame. Abbott got to first on Caffyn's error, was sacrificed by Snyder and Wratten reached first on a fielder's choice. Abbott being thrown out at third by Armstrong, Schweitzer walked and Haval doubled to left field and Wratten came home. Murry fanned after several bad ones were called on him.

In the fourth, with one out, Murray singled and stole second. Gygli hit down first base line and was out, Murray taking third on the play. With Pearce at bat, Murray came up with Armstrong's arm and made a pretty steal sliding in under Pearce and Launge as pretty as you please.

Pearce straightway fanned, but the punch didn't care, we had the run and that was what they were after.

Wratten worked the Akron flinger for a pass in the sixth and took second on Haval's hit and third on Broderick's error. Haval and Wratten worked the double steal perfectly, both men being safe, no effort being made to throw Wratten out at the plate.

Akron took a new lease on life in the ninth and attempted a batting rally. Armstrong got a life on Gygli's error and Caffyn immediately singled to center. With dangerous men like Broderick and Callahan at bat, it looked decidedly bad for the locals but Wratten retired both men on high flies. Score:

OLD ELI WON EXCITING RACE FROM HARVARD

New London, Conn., June 28.—Before the largest crowd that ever witnessed a race on the Thames river, the Yale crew Thursday evening, rowing on an average of four strokes to the minute less than Harvard, held the big Cambridge eight even until the last half mile, when the blue let out their speed and won a magnificent contest by a scull boat's length. Never once in the whole four miles did the long, graceful shells cease to lap each other. Yale's time for the four miles was 21 minutes 10 seconds, Harvard's 21 minutes 13 seconds.

HEALTH OF WOMEN

In this nineteenth century to keep up with the march of progress every power of woman is strained to its utmost, and the tax upon her physical system is far greater than ever.

In the good old-fashioned days of our grandmothers few drugs were used in medicines. They relied upon roots and herbs to cure weaknesses and disease, and their knowledge of roots and herbs was far greater than that of women today.

It was in this study of roots and herbs that Lydia E. Pinkham, of Lynn, Mass., discovered and gave to the women of the world a remedy more potent and efficacious than any combination of drugs.

MRS. C. E. FINK

is an honest, tried and true remedy of unquestionable therapeutic value. This medicine made from native roots and herbs contains no narcotics or other harmful drugs and today holds the record for the largest number of actual cures of female diseases of any medicine the world has ever known, and thousands of voluntary testimonials are on file in the laboratory at Lynn, Mass., which testify to its wonderful value.

Mr. C. E. Fink, of Carnegie, Pa., writes:—Dear Mrs. Pinkham:—"I wish every suffering woman would take Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound and write to you for advice. It has done me a world of good and what it has accomplished for me I know it will do for others."

When women are troubled with Irregularities, Displacements, Ulceration, Inflammation, Backache, Nervous Prostration, they should remember there is one tried and true remedy, Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound.

Mrs. Pinkham's Standing Invitation to Women

Women suffering from any form of female weakness are invited to write Mrs. Pinkham, at Lynn, Mass. Out of her vast volume of experience she probably has the very knowledge that will help your ease.

Cincinnati, June 27.—Hamilton county is awarded back taxes to the amount of $82,000 against the Union Central Life Insurance company by a decision of the superior court in general term. The back taxes are on the company's bank deposits, the insurance officials contending that no tax should be assessed on these deposits, but the decision of Judge Hoffmeyer in the county's favor was sustained. The case was one of those growing out of the contention on the part of the company that accumulated deferred dividends were not assessable for taxation and that cash in bank against which checks were outstanding are not assessable.

WHICH LAD GOT FROM SELLING A WHEEL THAT HE HAD HIRED.

Judge Brister Suspends His Sentence to Lancaster--Items of Interest from the Court House.

Dwight C. Cherry, an unusually handsome and bright little boy, not quite 9 years old, was brought before the juvenile court Friday morning on the charge of selling a wheel and attorney's fees for selling it for $1.50. The boy pleaded guilty. He was arrested with the $1.50 on his person, five cents of which had been spent for soda water. Although the boy is so young, this is the second time he has been brought before the court on a similar offense. The court gave him a very severe lecture and strong admonition and placed him under a suspended sentence to the Boys' Industrial school at Lancaster and made him a ward of the court. The court further ordered that the lad be sent at once to his grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. Hess, who live a few miles east of Johnston, to remain there pending the further action of the court.

Hampshire vs. Hampshire. The probate court is engaged in hearing the complaint that was filed against Oliver Hampshire, defendant in the alimony case of Emily Hampshire against Oliver Hampshire. The complainant charged that Oliver Hampshire refuses to pay her the $25 per month alimony and costs that he was ordered to pay her by the court last December. B. G. Smythe is the attorney for the plaintiff and the defendant is represented by S. L. James and Flory Field. Mrs. Hampshire testified that her husband had not paid her one cent of the alimony. Hampshire claimed that he had not made the usual amount of wages during that time, that work was light ad that he was sick part of the time. His attorneys also claim that the probate court has no jurisdiction to make the ruling for alimony, on the ground that the law giving the probate court power to try divorce cases was unconstitutional, and made a motion to quash the complaint on that ground. The court overruled the motion. At this writing additional testimony is being taken.

LOCAL OPTION LAW IS HELD VALID

Columbus, Ohio, June 28—The supreme court today sustained the validity of the Jones local option law by affirming the judgment of the superior court of Cincinnati in the case of Martin Doering and others against the city of Cincinnati, raising the validity of the Jones law. The court announced that it had been unable to agree unanimously, but no dissenting opinion was announced.

The court announced, "We are all of the opinion that the act whose validity is involved, if an exercise of police power, is subject to all the constitutional limitations which in their nature are applicable to that power. Upon other questions presented, we do not find such concurrence of opinion."

"I believe in capital punishment. It is right. It is a necessary protection to society. It is just and, knowing as I do that I will within a very short time go to my death in the electric chair, I say to you that if I had a vote tonight and could decide the whole question, I would declare that capital punishment must be continued for the good of society."

Cornelius asked the attendants to bring him a red rose. When the flower was brought to him he caressed it, pinned it on the lapel of his coat and remarked, "My wife always loved red roses."

Cornelius murdered his wife at their home in Canton at 7 a.m. on Monday, Sept. 17, 1906, with a window weight, which he picked up from a chair as he stepped up behind her. Mrs. Cornelius had sued for divorce, and Cornelius was trying to induce her to withdraw the petition and live with him. Although they with their children were occupying the same house, she refused to have anything to do with him. A week before the murder he had threatened to kill his wife, her sister and their own son, and is said to have repeated the threats many times during that week. Prior to committing the foul deed, Cornelius had made two trips to a saloon, where he drank whisky and beer.

Leaving his dead wife writhing in her own blood, Cornelius coolly left the house and walked up street to a grocery, where he bought some cigars and told the grocer that he had had trouble at home. When asked "what about?" he said: "I just killed my wife."

Saying nothing more, he left the grocery and started down street. Seeing the patrol wagon dashing by, he waved to the officers to stop, saying: "Hold on, I'm the man you want."

After briefly telling the police of the murder he was hurried to the city prison.

JAS. CORNELIUS IS ELECTROCUTED AT PENITENTIARY

CANTON WIFE MURDERER MET FATE BRAVELY EARLY FRIDAY MORNING.

Made a Remarkable Statement, Declaring His Belief in Capital Punishment Just Before His Death.

Columbus, O., June 28.—In the annex at the penitentiary, at 12.10 Friday morning, James Cornelius was electrocuted for the murder of his wife. No untoward incident marked the execution, and the condemned man went to the chair apparently unmoved.

Governor Harris had reprieved Cornelius three times. In his final announcement that the sentence of death should be executed, he declared that, while he is personally opposed to capital punishment, he must enforce the law. The governor said that after having gone over the case carefully, he was forced to the conclusion that the jury was justified in returning the verdict it did.

When told last evening that the governor would not commute his sentence, Cornelius said he would die like a man.

Just before he was escorted to the death chair Cornelius made the following statement:

"I believe in capital punishment. It is right. It is a necessary protection to society. It is just and, knowing as I do that I will within a very short time go to my death in the electric chair, I say to you that if I had a vote tonight and could decide the whole question, I would declare that capital punishment must be continued for the good of society."

Cornelius asked the attendants to bring him a red rose. When the flower was brought to him he caressed it, pinned it on the lapel of his coat and remarked, "My wife always loved red roses."
